

Seminars of PhD level

European education policies: Theories, Methodologies, Analysis, Interpretations

This seminar was initially for PhD candidates, doctors, post-doctors and selected post-graduate students. It is monthly, so 10 seminars are performed per year.

Guest lecturers and/or researchers from universities of the country and abroad interfere with presentations and then scientific discourse and riposte is developed. The themes vary but the majority is referring to Higher Education and/or the European Educational Policy while sometimes presentation and analysis of major theories of social sciences are performed.

At least at two of the 10 seminars, scientists from abroad are invited while at the last seminar of each academic year, the PhD candidates are presenting the progress of their projects.
